

Do you know ...

Crew Timekeeping allows supervisors to manage time punches for their crew members efficiently?

- Enable a supervisor to clock members of their crew in and out, including breaks and lunches.
- Easily facilitate adding or removing crew members on the fly.
- A form attached to the clock in and out punches can be used to collect additional pieces of information such as a job number to track what jobs an employee worked on.

Crew Timekeeping is an impressive problem-solving tool for employers who need to collect time punches for employees without a time clock.
