Our Order Status Levels provide a simple and structured way to enforce a business process that is used in the field?

- Order Status Levels specify the order in which order statuses can be used, preventing users from bypassing important steps.
- Each service can have a different set of Order Status Levels to create a different business process.
- Order Status Levels enforce the business process by only displaying the next available order statuses on the handheld device.

The Order Status Levels feature dynamically enables a technician to navigate the stages of the work order correctly.
